4. Discussion:

a. [] thanked []
for their successful work on P-101B.

25X1

b. A short discussion was held on the characteristics of the miniature I. R. Commo system. The main points made were:

(1) That a small unit should be developed which would work in conjunction with the P-101B units to form an unbalanced communications system.

(2) That ranges of the order of 1 mile should be considered.

(3) That the size and weight should be of the order of a 35 mm pocket type camera.

(4) That attempts should be made to strip the miniature unit of all unnecessary accessories.

(5) That 4 plus 20 units should be built along the lines of the present contract.

(6) That the proposal
